COMING TO SLOVENIA

To work

When you come to Slovenia to work, it is important to know:

- firstly, obtain a tax number (for the purposes of receiving your earned income), which you get at the competent tax office (local branch office). You have to fill in a form DR-02, which is available on the website of the Financial Administration.
- secondly, if you only come to Slovenia to work for a short period of time (less than six months), you are considered to be a non resident of Slovenia, and you stay resident of a country, where you previously worked or lived, unless you establish residential ties (e.g. habitual abode or the centre of vital interests) in Slovenia prior to the expiration of those six months. After six months, it is important to settle your residency status by either going to the local offices of the Financial Administration and filling in the questionnaire: Determination of residency status – entering the Republic of Slovenia or downloading the questionnaire from the previously mentioned link.

The questionnaire is not mandatory, you can simply file an application for the determination of your residency status.
